DCI WEEKLY REPORT
PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICE

25X1

Public Relations Unit

Except for liasion briefings, this is a quiet time for Public Relations. Nevertheless, we anticipate more activity in August when college students from the Washington Center and the Austin College Washington Semester visit Headquarters. Meanwhile, we are working to update the Question and Answer package we provide Agency officers and recruiters who make public appearances.

DCI and DDCI Support

The Military Advisory Panel will convene on 12 July to discuss Intelligence Community support to the US Central Command (Commander in Chief General Crist is our guest, along with his intelligence chief, BGen Pfister). The Panel will also examine warning methodology and science and technology issues.

25X1

[] met with the J-8 Staff on the details of the scenario to be used for the NATO-only excursion to the Chairman's Military Net Assessment; the meeting confirmed the validity of Intelligence Community participation in this scenario development. (A/NIO/General Purpose Forces)

Bob Blackwell briefed the DCI on the Moscow Party Conference. (NIO/USSR)

Estimates and Intelligence Memoranda

25X1

Andre LeGallo [] met with Defense Intelligence Agency representatives to solicit support for drafting The Outlook for Terrorism and Counterterrorism in Western Europe; a recently assigned terrorism expert, a reserve officer, will assist in drafting the paper. (NIO and A/NIO/Counterterrorism)

25X1

[] briefed Suzanne Lotarski, Commerce Department office director for Eastern Europe, on Soviet Policy Toward Eastern Europe under Gorbachev and recent "sense of the Community" reports on Poland and Hungary. (A/NIO/Europe)

Final Community coordination of the Soviet nuclear portion of Trends and Developments in Warsaw Pact Theater Forces and Doctrine, 1988-2007 has been completed. (NIO/General Purpose Forces and NIO/Strategic Programs)

Outside Sampling

David Einsel attended the Interagency Nuclear Proliferation Working Group to define guidance for the 1990s on nuclear proliferation issues--guidance follows current guidelines established for complete controls on all materials associated with nuclear materials and nuclear weapons programs and insures awareness of countries in trying to develop indigenous programs; and with DI representatives met with Ambassador Oakley, NSC, on a sensitive nuclear proliferation issue. (NIO at Large/Nuclear Proliferation/Chemical and Biological Warfare)

Al Shirley attended an Intelligence Community meeting to review the technical aspects of chemical munitions use in the Iraq-Iran War and its implications for Iraqi battle strategy. Many in the Community now believe the Iraqi use of chemicals in the three recent offensive actions has been most effective and even decisive in helping to win the battles; this meeting will provide a basis for an upcoming NIO/NESA sponsored get-together on the regional and military doctrine question. Andre LeGallo briefed R. Rand Beers, Director for Counterterrorism and Narcotics, NSC Staff, on likely terrorist responses to the Iran Air 655 shootdown; met with Ambassador at Large Bremer, State, to debrief him on the Ambassador's recent trip to Seoul and to discuss Olympic security; met with the Chairmen of the Technical Threat and R&D Subcommittees of the Interagency Intelligence Committee on Terrorism (IICT) to review the committees' work and provide guidance for future activities; attended a meeting of the R&D Subcommittee of the IICT, to review the Joint Special Operations Command (JSOC) R&D program; and met the newly appointed Assistant Secretary of Defense (Special Operations/Low Intensity Conflict) Charles S. Whitehouse and will meet with him again next week on Low Intensity Conflict (LIC). (NIO/Counterterrorism)

Andre LeGallo and [REDACTED] met with a DO/NE officer to review likely Iranian responses to the downing of Iran Air 655. The major dynamic is internal Iranian politics; the so-called pragmatists (Rafsanjani) are trying to prevent an untoward response. (NIO and A/NIO/Counterterrorism)

Murat Natirboff was requested by the Interagency Group on Counterintelligence (IG-CI) to reinstitute specific country studies on the hostile intelligence threat to US presence abroad; IG-CI guidance requested completion of the NATO nations before Middle East nations. As a precursor to these efforts, Natirboff and staff are scheduled to visit NSA, State, and DIA representatives after consultations with the CI Center to work out the most useful format for these threat assessments. Natirboff suggested that US business personnel overseas could be given unclassified defensive information on the hostile intelligence threat via the US Commercial Attaches abroad. (NIO/Foreign Denial and Intelligence Activities)

Murat Natirboff and a staff member attended the Personnel Security Research Symposium (PERSEREC) in Monterey, California. The recent spate of national security lapses have led to debate and research on the causes of espionage, the contribution to security of the DCID and investigative processes, and the legal and privacy issues involved. PERSEREC is under contract to the DoD to pursue these issues. (NIO/Foreign Denial and Intelligence Activities)
